

Battle Hymn for an Army of Lovers

Crys Matthews

Change is coming once again.
Except this time it feels like the worlds about to end.
White robed devil's in plain sight.
Angry protest in the streets night after night.
And it weights heavy on my mind
Why are we so quick to run backwards after all this time.
But I won't let it change my heart.
I was born for the love and hoping when I die that's how I depart.
And when you find yourself incapable of seeing eye to eye.
Remember when they go low we go high

Change is coming that's for sure.
We gave a mad man all the keys and let him walk right in the door.
And I don't think he'll see the light
Until the whole world is on fire but that's alright, that's alright.
We will still be here when he's gone
And if it doesn't kill us all well it will sure make us strong.
So don't let 4 years change your heart.
We were not born hating each other and now is not the time to start.
And when you find yourself incapable of seeing eye to eye.
Remember when they go low we go high

There's a song meant for soldiers that says let us live to make men free.
We're all sisters we're all brothers.
Then on each others shoulders there is no wall we can not fail.
We are are an army of lovers

People get ready... there's a train a coming
