So Mad

Frente!

You're sleeping, I'm not sleeping and there's miles of night
I see something shining where there is no lightI just want to bury it and throw away the weeds when they grow
What makes me so mad?
That scream to wake the birds is only my heart beating
What makes me so mad?Translucent skin I'm looking in I feel a ghost
Scared away and left the one I need the mostI just want to bury it and leave my tears to sink in the grave
What makes me so mad?
The shouting in my room is only my heart beating
What makes me so mad?The heart beat calls my name the pattern on my thumb
The waiting and the dream have all turned into one
You're sleeping I'm not sleeping and I wonder why
I love to think about the time before the lightI didn't want to bury it and lift my head up into the sky
What makes me so mad?
The bass drum through the floor is only my heart beating
What makes me so mad?
That scream to wake the birds is only my heart beating
What makes me so mad?
