So Many Questions

Andrus, Blackwood & Co

So many questions I must ask myself today.
I wonder if Jesus thinks I've done my share today.
Will I wake up in the morning to find regrets upon my mind?
Will I leave a trace of Jesus somewhere?

So many questions I must ask myself today.
What will I leave behind when life has passed my way?
Will people remember my name, or forget me all the same?
Will I leave a trace of Jesus somewhere?

Have I been a light in dark places?
Brought a smile to sad faces?
Have I shown the world I really care?
Have I lived my life the way He wants me to each & every day?
When someone stumbled, was I there to care?

So many questions I must ask myself today.
What will I leave behind when life has passed my way?
Will people remember my name, or forget me all the same?
Will I leave a trace of Jesus somewhere?

Have I been a light in dark places?
Brought a smile to sad faces?
Have I shown the world I really care?
Have I lived my life the way He wants me to each & every day?
When someone stumbled, was I there to care?

Have I been a light in dark places?
Brought a smile to sad faces?
Have I shown the world I really care?
Have I lived my life the way He wants me to each & every day?
When someone stumbled, was I there to care?

So many questions I must ask myself today.

Lyrics Submitted by KitsapGirl

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/