Stupid

Toad the Wet Sprocket

Four times he came by I did not look
Talked about the reservoir
His thumbs were hooked on his carpenter's belt
As he squinted in the sun
Smiled wide many times, think I smiled back onceAnd it's frightening
Ooo, I didn't expect that from you
It's blinding
Serious, are you seriously
I am feeling really stupid nowLast time on the fly, work had all been done
Sanding down the ceiling so it ends up in the rug
We were waiting in the bathroom till he finished up
One short hi and no goodbye
She says she knew him onceAnd it's frightening
Ooo, I didn't expect that from you
It's blinding
Serious, are you seriously
I am feeling really stupid now
Stupid now, stupid nowAnd it's frightening
Ooo, I didn't expect that from you
It's blinding
I can't see a thing, I see, I see
And I am really feeling stupid
I am really feeling stupid
I am feeling really stupid nowHey now
