Everything you want is done
You wanna run and all you wanna get is high
Stand back and letting all the checks roll in
You've done enough to get you byYou don't even try with your resume around your neckLoans are going unpaid dinner dates are delayed
Phones calls are never returned
Toys in the driveway ashes in the ashtray
Bridges that you've yet to burnI think its coming to you, such a strange occupation
I think its coming to you, such a strange situationYou want to turn me around by the resume around my neckHand in hand on the witness stand making time with youYou want to jerk me around with your resume around your neckYou're gonna buy us with the ease of a virus and disease
You were on a rope but now your done, your lead is hard to follow
Your story's hard to swallow, you've stopped being very much funI think its coming to you, such a strange occupation
You've got it coming to you, such a strange situationI wanna hang you up by the resume around your neckHand in hand on the witness stand making time with you
Send you home with broken bones making time with you
