

Good Night

Teen Daze

Dusk settles, the smell of night comes
A change is coming to everything that was and used to be
Float away, move into the dawn
With open eyes, we watch as the morning world departs
Where will it go
Never to be seen again
Where will it go
Never to be seen again
The aching world has found a piece it's never known
Releasing all the mysteries, finally we're shown
A time is but a structure given from above
And understanding that destiny is a lifespan's giving love
Where does it go
Never to be seen again
Where does it go
Never to be seen again
Where does it go
Never to be seen again
Where does it go
Never to be seen again
Never to be seen again
