

The Rise and Fall of You

Marina City

Lyrics By Ryan Alan Argast

If it was up to me
You wouldn't have another drink
You wouldn't be drowning in your own misery
If these walls could talk
They'd ask to not spin at all
Maybe just this once you could stand up straight and tall

You said this wouldn't happen again

Just stand on your two feet
Just keep it together
And make me believe
That you can
Stand on your two feet
Just keep it together
And make me believe
That you're not gone

If those loose lips would sink
Just like your dignity
Then we wouldn't mind your company
You're tongue is so tied up
You actually believe your pretty little lies
You're so hung up on your self I hope that rope is tied tight

Do you remember who you are?
Just stay with me
Stay with me now
When a bottle comes to those lips you lose who you are
Just stay with
Stay with me now
The next time you fall I'll walk over you
