Say You're Free

Goo Goo Dolls

I caught you stealing things you knew I'd give But nothing seems to matter in your life I come around to when I go to miss But nothing seems to matter here tonight And it's sad, I'm sorry Guess you're going blind Say you're free now, say you're free 'Cause tonight this might just mean the world to me Say you're free now, say you're free 'Cause tonight this might just mean the world Well, aware of what the answer is But nothing means enough to fill that space I'm still depending on the life of it But honestly, it feels like such a shame And it's sad, I'm sorry Guess you're going blind Say you're free now, say you're free 'Cause tonight this might just mean the world to me Say you're free now, say you're free 'Cause tonight, this might just mean the world Follow superstitions close They never fade away you know Your horoscope, your love is stoned Let them go now, let them go Say you're free now, say you're free 'Cause tonight this might just mean the world to me Say you're free now, say you're free 'Cause tonight, this might just mean the world to me Say you're free now Say you're free now Say you're free now
