

Smile in Your Sleep (A Crude Mechanical Remix)

Silverstein

When I'm lying in your bed
Play the motions through my head
You know that I'm thinking, I'm thinking
And I have reasons to believe
That I'm not the only one you spend this time with
But I'll stay You say,
You're weak,
You won't let me down,
You won't let me down
You lied,
Through your teeth,
You smiled in your sleep,
You smile in your sleep When we met
You said that we were the same
You know that we're different,
We're different
And all those time you promised me that Everything would work out in the end
You were gravely mistaken You say,
You're weak
You won't let me down,
You won't let me down
You lied,
Through your teeth
You smiled in your sleep,
You smile in your sleep You lied
You lied
You lied
You lied
You lied,
Through your teeth
You won't let me down
You lied,
I deserve better then this I dream of steel
Maroon and warm
Your end (Your end)
Your end (Your end)
You gasp for air I'll see this through
I'll see through you

You're pale (You're pale)
You're pale (You're pale)
You're pale
Blue eyes When your lying in your bed,
Your eulogy's been read,
You know that it's fitting
You lied You say
Your weak
You wont let me down
You wont let me down
You lied
Through your teeth
You smile in your sleep You smile
You smile
You smile
You smile
I deserve better than this
