

Boom Box

Institute

We're going down the tubes to the underground
Look what we've gone and done
We're getting to the point
Where nothing seems to work anymore If tolerance is dead
There'll be no rest for the living
Imagine no trouble
And a little respite This boom box needs batteries
This boom box needs batteries Lovers and dangerous love
Will find a way through everything
Sick at the thought of losing you
No one else in my room Soft as the snow that comes
You move like electric window
We take love where it comes
To the world we run She can't seem to find her feet
She can't seem to find her way up
Her face a thousand words
When all there is to say Lord knows you need disciples
God knows you need friends This boom box needs batteries
This boom box needs batteries Lovers and dangerous love
Will find a way through everything
Sick at the thought of losing you
No one else in my room Soft as the snow that comes
You move like electric window
We take love when it comes
To the world we run Taken it back to you, taken it back
Taken it back to you, taken it back Just trying to live, just dying to give
And girl goes, "See that bridge
I'll meet you there
Could you meet me there?", oh I want my television
Comfort in a cathode ray
I want my television Lovers and dangerous love
Will find a way through everything
Sick at the thought of losing you
No one else in my room Soft as the snow that comes
You move like electric window
We take love when it comes
To the world we run, to the world we run Lovers and dangerous love
Lovers and dangerous love Lovers, lovers
