Bleeds In Blue

Home Town Hero

Today I'll start it with a lie
I love it when you cry
When all along, it hurts too
But hey, a little lullaby
Can start with burning eyes
When all along, she feels goodI'm caught up by the angel
And its heart that bleeds in blue
I want you to cut out my tongue
So I can dip it into you
Some may say, they've heard it all before
But I still can't believe that time you walked into my doorAnd laugh everytime you open wide
I'll end in twice the time
When all along, I feel good
But hey, a little lullaby
Can start with burning eyes
When all along she feels good, feels goodI'm caught up by the angel
And its heart that bleeds in blue
I want you to cut out my tongue
So I can dip it into you
Some may say, they've heard it all before
But I still can't believe that time you walked into my door
