Stabbing Westward

You are all I am, you are all I ever want to be
I think of you
A solitary cry echoes through my throat, through my mind
I think of you
I think I woke up screaming
Well, I had a dream that you still loved me
Oh, I think I woke up screaming
Well, I think I woke up screaming go
For hours I'll just stare at my ceiling at nothing at all
And think of you
Candlelight through bells, make shadows just like roses in my mind
And I think of you
I think I woke up screaming
Well, I had a dream that you still loved me
Oh, I think I woke up screaming
Well, I think I woke up screaming go
Could this last forever?
Or will I die?
Could this last forever?
Or will I die? Just can I die
Maybe I could try to take a bath and drink a little wine
And think of you
But probably I'll lie naked on the floor by candlelights
And I'll think of you
I think I woke up screaming
Well, I had a dream that you still loved me
Oh, I think I woke up screaming
Well, I think I woke up screaming go
I think I woke up screaming
Well, I had a dream that you still loved me
Oh, I think I woke up screaming
Well, I think I woke up screaming go
I think I woke up, I think I woke up
I think I woke up, I think I woke up
I think I woke up, I think I woke up
Well, I think I woke up screaming go
