Emily

Lower Than Atlantis

Alarm clock rings, another day in hell begins
I'm going out of my mind until she walks in
They say love is blind but my vision is fine
Angels sing when I look in her eyes, I'm like...

Emily, won't you sit next to me?
You got such a pretty face, I'm a waste of space
But a boy can dream

It sucks you're cool and I'm not but they say
Every dog has it's day
No chance at all I guess I'm barking up the wrong tree anyway

I'm like a dog in heat and I'm on a short lead
We never play the same games because you're out of my league
You don't even know my name and you see me every day
I must be invisible, I just wish that I could say ...'Hey!'
