

Into The Sun

A Telemetry

paralysis gripping down upon my need analysis choking me strong I can't breath it's daunting all imagination games haunting in a wake of terms exclusive to a value I not yet can learn so many days - filled with confusion so many ways - your drawn to illusion

into the sun I direct my cry
into the sun I fry

anomalies
they just put me in my place oddities eccentric promise begin the race it's striking when you least expect it too heightened to regression release compounded by rejection that will only increase so many days - lost in delusion so many ways - I seek some conclusion

tumbling out of control rolling down a lonesome path - to leave crumbling all the way - no way to shake so much disgusting distrust away

into the sun I fry
