All Over Again

Jay Reatard

By the look on your face I can tell
That you've had enough
And the look of you in my eyes
Is to that you know that I fucked up

And don't you hold anything too close
'Cause one day
You'll have to let it go
It's all over again

My love was meant
Just to abuse you
I'm not just here to
Tell you I used you
To make it through another day
Until I find a better way

And don't you hold anything too close
'Cause one day
You'll have to let it go
It's all over again

It's all over again
