Home Soon

Issues

You've grown irrational
I'm too selfish to let myself flourish
Stuck at the bottom yeah
But I'm fine with where my whole world isI'd like to think that my body's out there somewhere
Alive and breathing
But my soul is a race and you envy the pace
Of this life I'm leadingBe a little stronger in your mind
You can hold the weight of timeI try making it easy on you
What more can I say or do
You only see half of what's there
Just hold on, you know me better
Highway love's gonna mess me up
Nights like these when I need your touch
Kicking it high in the back of my bus
Thinking bout you, while you're thinking bout trust
I'll be home soonThrowing names and drawing lines
Impossible when you mix your jealousy with mine
I'm on the phone and you're hating me
There's a million bottles and I'm trying to free
My head of all this chaos
There's a hook but you don't let me offYou don't take my word for an answer
It's hard to chose from the life I live
And the one I love either way I'll lose
I know you're gonna use this against me
I'm stuck with the burden, you're stuck with the envyBe a little stronger in your mind
You can hold the weight of time
And if I'm holding you back let me know
What's complicated should be so simpleI try making it easy on you
What more can I say or do
You only see half of what's there
Just hold on, you know me better
Highway love's gonna mess me up
Nights like these when I need your touch
Kicking it high in the back of my bus
Thinking bout you, while you're thinking bout trust
I'll be home soonWest coast days go by so damn slow
Caught up in the star glow
You're intuition's problematic
When I just wanna lose myself in the city of angels

I'm thrownI try making it easy on you
What more can I say or do
You only see half of what's there
Just hold on, you know me better
Highway love's gonna mess me up
Nights like these when I need your touch
Kicking it high in the back of my bus
Thinking bout you, while you're thinking bout trust
I'll be home soon
