

Breaking It Up (Punks Jump Up Remix)

Lykke Li

If you're going abroad I can't help you
If you're crossing the street I might be there
If you're going abroad I can't help you
If you're crossing the street I might be thereIf you're going abroad I can't help you
If you're crossing the street I might be there
If you're going abroad I can't help you
If you're crossing the street I might be thereIf you give it a minute, it's wrong
If you give it a minute, it's gone
If we're just waiting a second too long
Darling, I'll leave and you won't come alongSo give me the reason to stay
Give me the reason to wait
You know I don't look to get caught
'Cause darling, we're here but my true love is notBreaking it up before it's on
Breaking it up, it's already gone
Breaking it up, I didn't mean to fraud
Breaking it upI might be there
If you're going abroad I can't help you
If you're crossing the street I might be there
If you're going abroad I can't help you
If you're crossing the street I might be thereAnd I call you baby, I will and I do
Persuade you in though I know that we're through
I let you think that I'm yours when I'm not Keep you here though I'm ready to drop the last line hereBreaking it up before it's on
Breaking it up, it's already gone
Breaking it up, I didn't mean to fraud
Breaking it upI might be there
If you're going abroad I can't help you
If you're crossing the street I might be there
If you're going abroad I can't help you
If you're crossing the street I might be thereIf you're going abroad I can't help you
If you're crossing the street I might be there
If you're going abroad I can't help you
If you're crossing the street I might be thereBreaking it up
Breaking it up
Breaking it upI might be there
If you're going abroad I can't help you
If you're crossing the street I might be there
If you're going abroad I can't help you
If you're crossing the street I might be thereIf you're going abroad I can't help you
If you're crossing the street I might be thereIf you're going abroad I can't help you

If you're crossing the street I might be there
If you're going abroad I can't help you
If you're crossing the street I might be there
