Bottle

Paul McDermott

My heart is like a bottle with the world inside
I couldn't fit more happy in it if I tried
Look at all the love this thing can hold
I keep the lid on tight so it won't explode
I can't help notice from the day we met
When you touch my hand this is how I get
To keep my symptoms simplified
Oh my heart is like a bottle with the world inside

So tell me how do you fit every star in the sky
Every perfect work of art that's ever made me cry
Every rose, every sound, every ocean, every shore
You've gone and found a way to fit all of that and more

I said to the doctor, "Doctor, what?ll I do??
To stretch this heart and make a little more room?"
He said, "You're one in a million and I'm mystified
See, your heart is like a Bottle with the world inside"

So tell me how do you fit every star in the sky
Every perfect work of art that's ever made me cry
Every rose, every sound, every ocean, every shore
You've gone and found a way to fit all of that and more

Well my heart is like a bottle with the world inside
I couldn't fit more happy in it if I tried
You love me that must be why
Oh, my heart is like a bottle with the world inside
