

A Feeling We Get

The Wytches

There's a feeling I get,
Wait and see,
I'll forget everything. And a place we can go,
But you know now I'm not sure. I knew you so well,
Until I couldn't tell. All the secret shame,
That's enough,
Just enough to maintain.
Tried to make sense outside,
But I couldn't open my eyes. Everyday I get this feeling I can't shake,
When the sun beats on my face.
Sometimes it comes then goes,
And in that moment I know,
Where it's from. I wish the same for you,
And one day will come to.
