

Mr. Rockefeller

Bette Midler

"Hi, operator."

"May I help you?"

"Yeah, it's me again. Did you get him on the line yet?"

Oh, this is awful. I've been trying to get him all day

No, it's okay. I'll wait."

Mr. Rockefeller, how are you?

Mr. Rockefeller, having fun?

Mr. Rockefeller I could use a few

If you'd like to send a few down my way.

Mr. Rockefeller, I get my magazines,

I see you on the TV too, yeah.

Mr. Rockefeller, they tell me, they tell me all about it,

But they don't tell me how are you.

Sometimes I think I know you,

Sometimes I think I don't.

Sometimes I think we'll make it,

Sometimes I think we won't.

Waiting on the wire,

And I'm ragged to the bone.

Mr. Rockefeller won't you

Please pick up the phone?

The reason I'm calling is to say

I'm not feeling so good.

I'm all broken down.

My family is nervous and my thoughts are blue.

But I want to know, I gotta know,

I'm askin' everybody, how are you?

Please, won't you answer me?

Won't you take the time?

The next call's got to be collect,

Cause this is my last dime.

Waiting on the wire,

And I'm ragged to the bone.

Mr. Rockefeller, please pick up the phone.

Mr. Rockefeller, how are you?

Mr. Rockefeller, having fun?

Mr. Rockefeller, how are you?

Mr. Rockefeller, having fun?

Mr. Rockefeller, please, Mr. Rockefeller.

Mr. Rockefeller,

Mr. Rockefeller, wouldn't it be nice?

Mr. Rockefeller

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com

written by MIDLER, BETTE

Lyrics Â© Warner/Chappell Music, Inc.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>