

Run Run Run

Jessica Hernandez & The Deltas

Your mama said life's easy, your daddy says it's over, you were on the fight to run run run.

You won't be the last one tied up in the foreground, you could be the on to run run run.

With time it all comes to change,
so you come across the other way.

Who could be the one to save you,
from the man who's standin' in the way?

You throw away the bad ones,
buy in all the good ones, bendin' over backwards, done done done.

Slouchin' over tired, draggin' with the low ones,
leeches gettin' burnt and done done done.

With time it all comes to change,
so you come across the other way,

Who could be the one to save you
, from the man who's standin' in the way?

With time it all comes to change,
so you come across the other way,

Who could be the one to save you,
runnin' cross for all the day.

In the dark of the night, there's a cold hearted man.
Lock the door to the room, save the ones that you can.

In the dark of the night, there's a cold hearted man.
Lock the door to the room, save the ones that you can.

Start to run away, cause the people never change.
You're down the other way, don't you let them get away.

You start to run away, cause it never seems to change.
Lock the door to the room, til' the people are free.

With time it all comes to change,
so you come across the other way.

Who could be the one to save you,
from the man who's standin' in the way?

With time it call comes to change,
so you come across the other way.

Ohhh, who could be the one to save you
, runnin' cross for all the day.
