Three's a Crowd

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

hello concrete, hello pain looks like i'm paired with you again goodbye conference, so long belonging, hit the roadi'm celebrating, simply elated by your real opinions hiding in disguise (in disguise) there's no point in faking, it's on the table i'll try not to care anymoreyou misunderstand, i realize sometimes how difficult i am my only goal was retribution will you join me in a toast with these dirty razor blades watch these crimson droplets wash mistakes awaycelebrate it, wether you like it with a dinner date of distrust and regret i'll ask you freely if you really love me go and pull the trigger i promis not to care anymorei don't want attention just the light to fade no intervention my decisions made don't pretend you care anymore
