Every Soul

Twiddle

I hear 'em loud when they speak to me
Like a little bitty wind blowing through the trees
Listen close let your ears go free
So much love when you let go of your sanity
Take a deep breath go on a trip with me
Shut your eyes eyes lets go flying to the evergreens
Take a rest take a step to eternity
Life's too short burning down by mediocritiyWhen life feels like its too slow
And your daily dues are getting old
'Cause all we're taught is to fit the mold
There's so much more to every soul
There's so much more to your soulTake a chance do a dance put your mind at ease
Look around hear the sounds of tranquility
Laugh out loud, smile proud and enjoy the scene
This is you, this is me, we must relax and dream
Just a little bit light when the darkness sings
Just a little bit of joy when its hard to think
When life fels like a dead end street
It's up to you to push on through to better thingsWhen life feels like it's too slow
And your daily dues are getting old
'Cause all we're taught is to fit the mold
There's so much more to every soul
There's so much more to your soulTake a page, strike your faith in humantiy
Look around smile proud at important things
Do your best, take your a step and find your will to be
In a moments time you'll draw the line and embrace the change
Love and actin is the greatest truth
Life's your passion make your dreams come true
Don't give up, don't get stuck driving the same old route
It's not fun living life tied up in a suit
When life feels like its too slow
And your daily dues are getting old
'Cause all we're taught is to fit the mold
There's so much more to every soul
There's so much more to your soul
