Ceiling Unlimited

Rush

It's not the heat
It's the inhumanity
Plugged into the sweat of a summer street
Machine gun images pass
Like malice through the looking glass
The slack jaw gaze
Of true profanity
Feels more like surrender than defeat
If culture is the curse of the thinking class
If culture is the curse of the thinking class
Ceiling unlimited
World so wide
Turn an' turn again
Turn again
Feeling unlimited
Still unsatisfied
Changes never end
Never end
The vacant smile
Of true insanity
Dressed up in the mask of tragedy
Programmed for the guts and glands
Of idle minds and idle hands
I rest my case
Or at least my vanity
Dressed up in the mask of comedy
If laughter is a straw for a drowning man
If laughter is a straw for a drowning man
Ceiling unlimited
Windows open wide
Look and look again
Look again
Feeling unlimited
Eyes on the prize
Changes never end

Never end
Winding like an ancient river
The time is now again

Winding like an ancient river
The time is now again
The time is now again
The time is now again
The time is now again
The time is now again
The time is now again
The time is now again
Ceiling unlimited
Turn again
Feeling unlimited
Never end
Changes never end
(Winding like an ancient river)
Never end
Winding like an endless river
(Winding like an ancient river)
Winding like an ancient river
The time is now again
Hope is like an endless river
The time is now again
The time is now again
The time is now again
