

Angelheart, Ravenheart (Act 1: Before The Bleeding)

Eternal Tears of Sorrow

The last ray of the dying sun
Was born from the sacred flames
He was meant to be the one
The one to rule the light
The forgotten son of wind
The seventh king of the dawn

He was called by the name, Angelheart

The second tide had turned
Completing the nightly sign
To start a change to come
Blood of a child was shed
To stain the soul so pure
To wake the heart of the fallen

He started to live again, Ravenheart

Guardians of light
Oh saints, we believe in
Please come with your might
Can't watch him dying
The heart of the night is choking the flame
Can't watch him dying

Oh saints, we believe in, he's wasting away
Can't watch him dying
He's losing his wings and the crown of the dawn
Can't watch him dying

The new time has begun

Unholy troops of the night
Break the back of the light
Your master orders you
Kill the hordes of the sun
Let the dark age be begun
Your master orders you

Let the blade of dark incise

As the moon of blood arises
Your master orders you
Before the bleeding sun
We'll toast to the fallen one
As the black dawn greets up all

Guardians of light
We have to know slaves for the end of time
We have to know writings of the sacred signs
