

The Abolishment Of Luxury.

Amen

Nation's kept in marbled, a face of yet to be decayed
We kept sick and sorrow, we don't live to betray Well I don't wanna see your animals
And I don't wanna sleep with your animals It's the policy of abandonment
It's the hypocrisy in your establishment
It's the policy of abandonment
It's hypocrisy of your heart My faces cut and swallowed, caged and you all who be fame
Kids are falling out, hollowed, calling out all to tame Well I don't wanna see your animals
And I don't wanna sleep, with you all It's the policy of abandonment
It's hypocrisy in the establishment
It's the policy of abandonment
It's hypocrisy in your heart
In your heart, in your heart, in your heart, heart My face is left in cornered, all my hearts have decayed
I lived in the cracks of tomorrow, best in all your pain And I don't wanna be your animal
And I don't wanna sleep with you all It's the policy of abandonment
It's hypocrisy of the establishment
It's the policy of abandonment
It's hypocrisy on your heart, on your heart
