City to City

Left Alone

Well I keep falling in love in every city, with the girls and with the booze
It don't matter how far I go cause I always come home to you
I keep falling in love in every city, with the girls and with the booze
It don't matter how far I go cause I always come home to youThe other night I was drinking and fighting and screaming everything's okay
Well she called me on the phone know I'm alone, cause that's just how I became
Well I'll be drinking I'll be fighting I'll be doing everything I've always wanted 7 days a week
Well she called me on the phone you know I'm alone, cause that's just how I becameWell I keep falling in love in every city, with the girls and with the booze
It don't matter how far I go cause I always come home to you
I keep falling in love in every city, with the girls and with the booze
It don't matter how far I go cause I always come home to you[Tims Part:] (something) down here baby listen to me, we're playing rock 'n roll we're gonna play all night long, we're getting outta control (yeah) (something idk it goes into a bunch of city name drops) Montgomery Miami, L.a., (something) Charleston, San Fransisco bayWell I keep falling in love in every city, with the girls and with the booze
It don't matter how far I go cause I always come home to you
Well I keep falling in love in every city, with the girls and with the booze
It don't matter how far I go cause I always come home to youStuck in the avenues of London tonight but girl I still feel the same
I've got a pocket full of empty memories that I'll keep until the bitter end.
Well I'll be drinking I'll be fighting I'll be doing everything I've always wanted 7 days a week
And when she called me on the phone she found me alone, cause that's just how I becameWell I keep falling in love in every city, with the girls and with the booze
It don't matter how far I go cause I always come home to you
Well I keep falling in love in every city, with the girls and with the booze
It don't matter how far I go cause I always come home to you
