

Natural Born Killers

Live

I don't know how you ever take it
I see the ways he always puts you down
I know I'm not the first to say it
Baby, put your foot down This back and forth is gonna kill you
I know you think you can't give him up I don't know how else I can say it
Baby, put your foot down Put your foot down
Put your foot down See me tonight you can stop your running
Open your eyes you should have seen it coming
See me tonight we can put him down.
I never hesitate to tell you just how it is even if I think it might upset you
There was always something wrong about the way that you lived
Baby, put your foot down
Put your foot down See me tonight you can stop your running
Open your eyes you should have seen it coming
See me tonight, we can put him down.
We can put him I clocked his every movement
His collections all through town
Honey leave the backdoor open
At 3 we take him
Take him down
Take him down
See me tonight you can stop your running
Open your eyes you should have seen it coming
See me tonight we can put him down.
We are running See me tonight you can stop your running
Open your eyes you should have seen it coming
See me tonight we can put him down.
We have ran him down
Putting him down
