Don't Cry

Patrice

He was born in the morning
His mum couldn't take no more
So he was found in the evening
In the bed of a burn cigars , heeeey
No papa to run to
No mama to take no charge
So he'll never be a doctor , a dentist or a movie star
I told him boyDon't cry
Something will come up way
When the sunrise
Only God believes in
Dad Dad gotta realize
Love will always find
Is where you lie
Don't cry
Something will come up way
When the sunrise
Only God believes in
Dad Dad gotta realize
Love will always find
Is where you lieShe was walking down the street
In her arms she had a seal
Looking down dragging her feet
Hard of tears to weap
So she felt down to her knees
Asking the Lord for giving me please
I could never forfill your needs
So please don't cry for me
There was no world for way to turn
Neither a penny or cent to burn
This place is saint for those who love
So now baby don't cry for herDon't cry
Something will come up way
When the sunrise
Only God believes in
Dad Dad gotta realize
Love will always find
Is where you lie
Don't cry

Something will come up way
When the sunrise
Only God believes in
Dad Dad gotta realize
Love will always find
Is where you lieNobody is telling who you are They're just is telling who you should and should not be Nobody is telling who you are
They're just is telling who you should and should not be, ohh one more time
Nobody is telling who you are
They're just is telling who you should and should not beeeeDon't cry
Something will come up way
When the sunrise
Only God believes in
Dad Dad gotta realize
Love will always find
Is where you lie
Don't cry
Something will come up way
When the sunrise
Only God believes in
Dad Dad gotta realize
Love will always find
Is where you lie

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/