Message Without A Meaning

Our Last Night

every time i have the chance to look at you i'll turn awayit's not me it's you and your liessometimes i wish that we would be together forever and others i just regret i ever saw your face in the first placeto see your smile makes me want to pull this chair from beneath my feetit's not me it's you and your liessometimes i wish that we would be together forever and others i just regret i ever saw your face in the first placei took out my heart there's blood all over the floor this time i will be the one last standing and you will be the one begging for forgiveness and if i had to change my mind i would have nothing

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/