

Alberts Eyes

British Sea Power

The emotion in a stomach acid is equal to the depth of Albert's eyes
And all of the equations that were mastered belong to average ordinary life

Yeah I know, it's so Natural

Yeah I know, I've been here before But only if I ask you

And maybe not at all When you look down and see that you were playing upon the greatest oceanic truth

Yeah I mostly understand what you were saying

And after all there's quite a lot of proof But only if I ask you

And maybe not at all

It's getting colder in Alaska

But round here it's getting warm

Songwriters

Noble, Martin / Wilkinson, Jan Scott / Wilkinson, Neil Hamilton / Wood, Matthew James Published by

Lyrics Â© Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>