

Yoursself

Steve Angello

You're ritual everyday
A mild shower soak in aftershave
Best clothes do your best
Look in the mirror, go on Belittle yourself, yourself, yourself
Belittle yourself, yourself, yourself You go on day after day, oh
Dreaming on a lie
That you keep locked inside
Of yourself, yourself, yourself
Of yourself, yourself, yourself Can you sleep tonight?
Cast aside for some pouting young pup
Sink into a slurred veneer
Alcoholic haze so now Least you can like yourself, yourself
Least you can like yourself, yourself You go on day after day
Reservoirs of guilt
That your fixed grin always hides And yourself, yourself, yourself
Of yourself, yourself, yourself
And yourself, yourself, yourself
Of yourself, yourself, yourself You look at ad's all day
Everyone is perfect and you're so lame
Free scent burns your skin
But no smell can really cover sin Too many teenage holes to fill
Too many teenage holes to fill You go on day after day, oh
Speak to your despised
Blanking your loved ones And yourself, yourself, yourself
And yourself, yourself, yourself
And yourself, self
