

God Willin' & the Creek Don't Rise

Ray LaMontagne & The Pariah Dogs

Caroline,

In the mountains the sun sets up in ribbons so high, it's like I don't never wanna get old...
don't ever wanna die.

We been seein' steady rain, 'bout to drive us all insane, nearly lost a few head up in the pines.
At night, when some of the boys get to talking up their girls back home, you know I tell 'em there ain't none as fine as mine.

I can hear old Chapman sayin' come morning we'll break the range, be pushin' hard now for the plains.

I close my eyes and I can see you...

I close my eyes and I can feel you here.

God willin' an the creek don't rise, I'll be home again before this time next year.

Though I fear this fever won't break...

-All my love

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>