

Little Bit O' Me,

Railroad Earth

Oh little baby
What do I see?
A little bit of you and a little bit of me
Oh little baby
Dawn of the day
Two hearts open and a journey underway
Temperature arising
Up on the hill
falcon on a hickory be quiet and still
Windy on the high ridge
Rivers running free
Two run together and a little heart beat
And the hope that I've found
Is that you, be happy
And the hope I carry round
Is that you, be ok
Oh little baby
Did you feel the sound?
Let me take the two and make it into one
And the hope that I've found
Is that you, be happy
And the hope I carry round
Is that you, be ok
Oh little baby
Opening eyes
Will you see a blue or a threatening sky
What will you hear
What will you know?
A soft breeze rustle or a siren's blow
Will you run freely
All over the world
Chase the pounding beat of the buffalo herd
Oh little baby
before you move along
Let me fill your cup from a bucket of song
And the hope that I've found
Is that you, be happy
And the hope I carry round

Is that you, be ok
