

How Many Times

Gerald Levert

You know how I feel about you and you keep telling me
That he hurt you again, I must be some kind of man
To sit here and listen to you cry, knowing if he apologizes
You'd be right back with him again, yeah And girl you know, you're all that I've hoped for
And I wish that you could see, oh babe
See, if you really, really wanna know the truth about it
You should be right here with me, baby How many times will you accept his apology
When I'm telling you, you'll never hear lies from me
How many times will you accept his apology
I'm telling you, you'll never hear lies from me If you wanna know the truth, I think that he's a fool
To hurt a beautiful woman, someone as lovely as you
See, no matter how much I say I love you
You go running back for all, all the love that I give
And all the things that he lacks See, and girl you know, you're all that I hope for
And I wish that, I wish that you could see, baby
Oh, see if you really, really, really wanna know
Really wanna know the truth about it
You should be right here, you should be right here
With me and I want you to know, baby How many times will you accept his apology
I'm telling you, you'll never hear lies from me
How many times will you accept his apology
I'm telling you, you'll never hear lies from me Why won't you let me take away the pain
See girl, it makes me so sad
When you call, when you call out his name
See, I'm the one who'll make your gray skies blue
I never perpetrate love like he's done to you How many times will you accept his apology
I'm telling you, you'll never hear lies from me
How many times will you accept his apology
I'm telling you, you'll never hear lies from me How many times will you accept his apology
I'm telling you, you'll never hear lies from me
How many times will you accept his apology
I'm telling you, you'll never hear lies from me Love you, love you, love you
Love you, love you, love you
Love you How many times will you accept his apology
I'm telling you, you'll never hear lies from me
