

Enter My Dream

Kenny Loggins

Enter my dream, baby,
Enter my dream. Jung river won't you stop for me awhile,
Hold me like a sleepy child,
And take me where I'm bound to be. I'm walkin' on the wings of make-believe,
I'm livin' out the fantasy,
That I know well,
I've been visitin' there all my life. 'Cause you see,
Happiness finds me sleepin',
There I know I go beyond reality.
It'll be effortless and easy,
Somebody take me there. I'm livin' in a dream, baby,
Livin' in a dream. I'll play for you,
You'll play a tune for me.
A masterpiece of harmony,
That everybody here can do. A hundred writers pass the words along,
And suddenly we've made a song.
That sounds sweet and clear,
Something every dreamer can hear. And we sing,
Happiness finds me sleepin',
There I know I go beyond reality.
It'll be effortless and easy,
Somebody take me there.
I'm livin' in a ...
(Instrumental)
Enter my dream. You're waitin' for the wind to start to rise,
Well take a look, and close your eyes,
Away to a place every dreamer can share. And that's where,
Happiness finds us sleepin',
There I know I go beyond reality.
It'll be effortless and easy,
Somebody take me there.
Somebody take me where,
We'll be livin' in a dream, baby,
Enter my dream.
