Start Again

Kaskade

It's my hope, it's my fear It's my dream, all my tears It's a start, it's an end Then I start again, I start again It's my hope, it's my fear It's my dream, all my tears It's a start, it's an end Then I start again, I start again Feelings that I don't know Mornings when I can't go Like I've lost my way again Then I stumble as I rise If you look into my eyes There's a chance that you will get in It's my hope, it's my fear It's my dream, all my tears It's a start, it's an end Then I start again, I start again The reason is a guess The place where that is left Vision's not just what I see The world is on my side The reason left to hide The moments that it made me Hold my dreams, my tears It's the starting Then I start again, I start again It's my hope, it's my fear It's my dream, all my tears It's a start, it's an end Then I start again, I start again It's my hope, it's my fear It's my dream, all my tears It's a start, it's an end Then I start again, I start again It's my hope
