You Don't Exist

leah andreone

Can you find last night for me?
Repeat what he said to me
Smell his breath on my neck
Can you taste him still?Nibbled skin, skin turns red
His eyelash lays on my bed
Touch my chills before they heal
Make them healPour the acid in my eyes
Burn the pictures in my mind
Take everything away from me
'Cuz you don't exist if I don't seeAir is loud, drums won't beat
I can't search, I can't find my feet
Hurry up turn on the light
Someone's gotten lost tonightCan you recall when you were him?
Don't give up, you can't win
Back then, what he said was true
I should've recorded youPour the acid in my eyes
Burn the pictures in my mind
Take everything away from me
'Cuz you don't exist if I don't seeSee the lights up in the sky
They used to live in your eyes
Something's sick, something's wrong
All your promises are gonePretend you're him, blindfold me
It's like he's here, if you don't speak
Spin me around make me dizzy
You're just a blurPour the acid in my eyes
Burn the pictures in my mind
Take everything away from me
'Cuz you don't exist if I don't seeCan you find last night for me?
Repeat what he said to me
