

I Owe You One (EP Version)

Lights

What you've given me is more than I can say
?Cause I don't know the words to thank you properly
You pulled me from the grave and stood me on a hill
And when I was afraid you made me still For the love you bring, owe you everything
For the breath you give, you're my cause to live
For everything under the sun, I owe you one Chaos all around, explosions and fire
You took me off the ground and lifted me higher
When trouble knew my name, that was before you
Now I'll never be the same, now that I know you For the love you bring, owe you everything
For the breath you give, you're my cause to live
For the love you bring, owe you everything
For the breath you give, you're my cause to live
For everything under the sun, I owe you one Oh, oh For the love you bring, owe you everything
For the breath you give, you're my cause to live
For the love you bring, owe you everything
For the breath you give, you're my cause live
For everything under the sun, I owe you one
