

Beautiful Boy

Ben Harper

Never Been burned by a beautiful
I always had myself a couple little toys
None of them matter when you're laying next to me
You know you shook me like a baby in a tree
Hey, is it easier, when you're out there on your own
Did you find what you're looking for?
I know I'll never be the one that you adore
I need time to grow
I need someone else to call my own
I need you, to need me
I don't love you, so come love me
Tonight

Never been turned by a beautiful girl
I've always loved a couple women in this world
All of them matter when you're laying next to me
I know I shook you like a baby in a tree
Hey, is it easier, when you're out there on your own
I haven't found what I'm looking for
I know you'll never be the one that I adore
I need time to grow
I need someone else to call my own
Don't you, to need me
I don't love you, so come love me

Tonight
Nothing's gonna change
If I wanna leave, then I'm gonna leave
'Cause nothing's gonna change
If I wanna leave, then I'm gonna leave
Everything's clearer now
The lovers have gone their way
Colors no longer fill my head
Everything's black and grey all right
Curse this fickle mind of mine
I've wasted so much time
When will I learn nothings ever good enough
When it's mine...?
I need time to grow
I need someone else to call my own

Don't you, to need me
I don't love you, so come love me
I don't love you, so come love me
I don't love you, so come love me
I don't love you, so come love me
I don't love you, so come love me
Tonight...
