

You Are

Carolyn Dawn Johnson

The sunlight on my shoulders the smile on my face
My secret weapon my favorite place
The reason my heart skips a beat
The broom that sweeps me off my feet A gentle inspiration my weary soul's salvation
The half that makes me whole
The gravity that grounds me the arms I want around me
Never letting go I've lived, I've lived enough
To know what is
And what's not
You are, you are All the love I wanna make Every breath that I wanna take
The rush that's runnin' down my spine
The touch that takes me every time An innocent seduction, oh I can't get enough and Can't help but let it show
I lose all my composure, I'm totally exposed and
The reason I let go Is I've lived, I've lived enough
I know what is
And what's not
You are, you are My every hope
My every dream
You are my everything I've lived yeah, I've lived enough
I know what is
And I know what's not
You are, you are, you are The sunlight on my shoulders
The smile on my face
My secret weapon
My favorite place
