

I Wrote a Letter (2015 Remastered Version)

Tina Turner

I wrote a letter to my love today
I wrote it so hard on what I gotta say
I'm down and out to tell you the truth
A man can make the poor girl sing the blues You know what I couldn't be with you
When there's a chance please give me a clue
Untill I drown in a sea of booze
A man can make the woman sing the blues, yeah Took my pride and I threw it away
You gotta release me from this suffering
You'll find me everywhere running around
Untill you showed up to find me in the gutter
I wrote a letter to my love today
I wrote it so hard on what I gotta say
All my life is ending up the blues
A man can make the poor girl sing the blues
Yeah you can make the white girl sing the blues Took my pride and I threw it away
You gotta release me from this suffering
You'll find me everywhere running around
Untill you showed up to find me in the gutter I wrote a letter to my love today
I wrote it so hard on what I gotta say
I'm down and out to tell you the truth
All my life is ending up blues
When there's a chance please give me a clue
Cause you know what I couldn't be with you
Untill I drown in a sea of booze
A man can make the woman sing the blues
A man can make the white girl sing the blues
Yeah, yeah, yeah, oh yeah
You got me singing the blues
You got me singing the blues
Yeah, yeah, oh yeah
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah.

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>