Singular

Discodeine

Born into oblivion
Without the fear of existing all aloneLater comes the acquisition, forced upon
The solitude now loneliness
The god now submerged in a game of guiltPsychopathic shepherds
Deny the miracle of our essence
And yet we have part in the blameAllowing their ravings
Comforting their weakness, their sickness
It is time to live
Trust no oneRecognize black
Recognize white
Recognize shadows
I am with godsBlack, white, shadows, godsRecognize black
Recognize white
Recognize shadows
I am with godsTraitors want to keep you down
Rise up from the groundNo one steals what no one owns
No one steals what no one owns
Disown and distanceStrong is she who realizes
Ethics built on sacrifice
Strong is she who realizes
Ethics built on sacrificeNo one steals what no one owns
One by one by one
Strong is she who realizes
Ethics built on sacrificeNo need for companionship
Back into the silence, silence
It is all it needs
DesolationAlone in birth
Alone in darkness
Alone in deathAlone in the daylight
One with reality
Shaped by the inner glow
Determination, I
All can be reached from within
All can be reached from withinBorn into oblivion
Without the fear of existing all alone
Later comes the acquisition forced upon
The solitude, now loneliness
The God now submerged in a game of guiltPsychopathic shepherds
Deny the miracle of our essence

And yet we have part in the blameAllowing their ravings
Comforting their weakness, their sickness
It is time to live
Trust no oneRecognize black
Recognize white
Recognize shadows
I am with gods
