

Decalogue

raison d'D°tre

There doesn't seem to be a choice
There doesn't seem to be a way
You remember when you were young
But now the years have made you older
 What do you say to the child
 Who only wants some time to play?
 You only wanted to be someone
 But life has made a fool of you
 Everything you ever did
Just went through your stretching fingers
 Everything just seems to fade
 And all my thoughts just turn to hate
 Try to realize all the time
But when I do, I just get nowhere[Instrumental chorus]While I watch things still go wrong
 There doesn't seem much I can do
 All you ever say to them
 Is watch yourself, please don't fall over
 But if you just take a look
 You'd know the same has happened now
 You never meant to take that way
 But that's the way it always goes
 Try to realize all the time
 But when I do, I just get nowhere
But when I do, I follow you[Instrumental chorus]
