Someone That Makes You Happy

Andrew London

My love, you're close, to the end of your rope
Been let down i'm sure, been spoken for
But it all can't be true.
The fire, in your lungs, oh what have I become?
your absent eyes, your heavy sighs, the love you knew?

Forget the things that you say, you know you know they mean
They mean nothing anyway, I hope you'll notice I just Want to be, the someone that makes you happyâ€¦

You looked inside, someone you don't recognize
You were loyal once, and paid the cost
A strong resolve, unglued
Like nothing's gonna be in your way again
Like nothing's gonna numb the pain
Well, between the black and white, a heavy gray
Echoes what remainsâ€¦

Forget the things that you say, you know you know they mean
They mean nothing anyway. I hope you'll notice I just Want to be, the someone that makes you happyâ€¦
Forget the things that you say. you know you know they all just
They all just got in the way. I hope you'll notice I just Want to be, the someone that makes you happyâ€¦

And I want it all my love,
And I wouldn't stop if you asked me now,
See we're made just the same, just the same?

Forget the things that you say, you know you know they mean
They mean nothing anyway. I hope you'll notice I just Want to be, the someone that makes you happyâ€¦
Forget the things that you say. you know you know they all just
They all just got in the way. I hope you'll notice I just Want to be, the someone that makes you happy.
