

Seven Words

Weyes Blood

These seven words
I say to you
one by one
I love you and you have to know if I could change how I'm insane
if I could learn to leave
my troubles behind
it's starting to hurt and I know you've moved on telling everyone how I done you so wrong cat scratch a beast
my words that made you bleed
now I face tomorrow
now I face tomorrow In time we'll both be free from this ball and chain hangin on to things I want you mostly in the morning
when my soul
is weak
from dreaming
when the dust has cleared and you forget that I'm here hangin on I've been hangin
who had the last word I'm telling you first
who had the last word
I'm telling you first these seven words are no longer mine who am I
but a stranger
who took you down
it's starting to burn

and I wanna go home only home I've known lost in the storm it had to be seven words to set us free
now I face tomorrow
now I face tomorrow
now I face tomorrow

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>