

A Wilderness

Laura Nyro

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Cinnamon hills
Sweet child
Sees waves of whisper blue
Earth calls to you everyday in every way Mommas puttin' on some warpaint
For a little bit of combat
You asked the reason
You gotta fight for your freedom sometimes everyday in every way Many people pass by caught up in roles and rules
Many rivers run free
I don't wanna' crush the wilderness in you child
Or the wildness in me How do we keep them both alive?
Somehow they must survive
Somehow they must survive
For there's so much fun and so little time We go together through the changing seasons
Hearts afire
They know the world needs it everyday in every way
Little darling, zap Touch the earth child
Heaven and Earth, child
Come, come touch the Earth child
Touch Heaven and Earth, child, ooh
