

Let It Rain

Jason Michael Carroll

A storm on the horizon weather's coming in
Smell of the rain takes me back again
To a morning just like this and clouds filled the sky
And every time I think about that day I said goodbyeMy heart beats like thunder
As I call out your name
And all my tears start falling
Down like the rain
So let it rain, let it rainI remember back in college you loved these kind of days
When we'd run off to your apartment and hide away
We'd talk about forever and how we'd share our lives
It never crossed my mind I'd be without you here tonightMy heart beats like thunder
As I call out your name
And all my tears start falling
Down like the rain
So let it rain, let it rainI'm not afraid of dying it's something we all do
But I'm scared to death of living the rest of my life without youMy heart beats like thunder
As I call out your name
And all my tears start falling
Down like the rain
So let it rain, let it rain
Let it rain
