Running

Baby Huey

She's got me running, trying to find her like a diesel on tracks behind her though I know from me she wants to escape fool I am, I won't accept my fate So I'm running and I'm so tired cant stop now cause she's got such a headstart anyday I know I am stepping to find another man holding what was mine

They say love can be so blind and it can almost drive you out of your mind look at me an educated fool loving this woman made me bloat my cool

So I'm running, trying to find her like a diesel on tracks behind her
another man holding what once was mine

Still running, trying to get somewhere Still running momma, Still runing baby Still trying to get it together, somehow I know Let me tell you one more time
They say love can be so blind
and it can almost drive you out of your mind
loving this woman made me bloat my cool

So I'm running, running, running, running, running, running...
