Put the Beat Back Inyour Heart

John Mueller

Gonna put the beat back in your heart

Hey Girl, it's been a long, long while Since I've seen you really smile
But we're gonna go out tonight, gonna change your life

Hey girl, do you remember when You were dancing with your sister when you were ten We're gonna get that feeling back again when we go out tonight, when we go out tonight

Came into the night and stole your most precious thing
Broke your heart, stole your soul
You filled your dreams with so many evil things
But tonight gonna make you whole

Hey babe, go put that black dress on
But don't you take too long
We're gonna dance until the dawn comes
When we go out tonight

Gonna put the beat back in your heart
Gonna put the beat back in your heart
Gonna put the beat back in your heart

It goes something like...

Gonna put the beat back in your heart
Gonna put the beat back in your heart
Gonna put the beat back in your heart

It goes something like this

Gonna put that spring back in your step
Gonna put the joy back in your life
When we put the beat back in your heart

It goes something like this
